ROOKS IN THE PACIFIC.

On my passage from Callao to Ceylon I sighted three rock which were not down on any of my charts; but having one of Mr Pool's best chronometers on board I am quite certain of their position, which is in lat 55 68, and iou 45 50 W. Moreover, on my arrival I found the said chronometer perfectly correct. The rocks appeared to bear north and south from each other at about haif a mile apart; they are pinacle shaped, about 150 feet high, and quite black.
